The mentorship program at CCBI is a unique and valuable aspect of the study at the College. This feature ensures that students obtain indigenous and practical knowledge and support in their home country. Consequently, the Mentors of CCBI are invaluable resources for our Distance Learning students who are situated in all parts of the world and who need guidance, prayer-support, coaching, friendship, and advice from experienced professionals who are role models working in the field where the students might seek employment. As a result, CCBI's mentors come from all walks of life and range from students, to professionals, to retired ministry workers.

These Mentors really serve more like 'Big Brothers/ Big Sisters' and are there to listen to the mentees and give good counsel, as they provide a helpful and confidential forum for exploring personal and professional dilemmas.
